Week One: Western Civilization, Columbus and Colonization
Fact or Opinion?

Fact
A fact in history is a statement that is accepted as true and is not debatable. A fact often refers to a date, a person, or a document. For example, “The Declaration of Independence was written and signed in 1776.” We know this happened because we have the original document, the men who wrote and signed this document wrote about it, and observers wrote about it as well. There is no doubt in anybody’s mind whether the facts in this statement are true.

Which of these sentences are facts and which are not?

Fact or Not a Fact?

Opinion

An opinion is an expression of somebody’s ideas and is debatable. Opinions that are based on facts and good reasoning are stronger than opinions not based on facts. In history, opinions alone tend to be less persuasive than when a person supports his opinions with facts.

Are the following opinions or facts?

Opinion or Fact?

Now that you’ve learned the difference between fact and opinion, read the example paragraphs below and answer the questions. These two students attempted to answer the question “Did the ancient civilizations of Mesopotamia contribute much to world civilizations?”

Student 1: The ancient civilizations of Mesopotamia contributed much to the world. These societies rocked! When there was a really big war, the Sumerians and Assyrians knew how to fight hard. These societies would use a lot of arrows in their battles, and the enemy wouldn’t know how to respond. Most of the time, the enemy would just die, or quit. Also, everyone knows that Mesopotamia had the best kind of clothing. Have you seen pictures of the great Babylonian kings? Their clothing was “tight.” And, Mesopotamia was the land between two rivers, so therefore this area had to have a lot of water. All in all, the ancient civilizations of Mesopotamia contributed much to the world.

Student 2: The ancient civilizations of Mesopotamia contributed much to the world. The Sumerians created the first written language. We call this “Cuneiform.” Sumerians also were the first people to use the wheel for transportation. The Babylonian king Hammurabi established one of the first written law codes, known as Hammurabi’s Code. These laws helped the weak against the strong, protected women’s property rights, and regulated doctors’ fees. Also, the Hittites discovered how to use iron, which at that time was the strongest metal in the world that humans could work with. Phoenicians gave us the world’s first alphabet, with 22 symbols. In addition, the Hebrews were the first people ever to worship only one God. Yes, the ancient civilizations of Mesopotamia contributed much to the world.

Questions

1. Which of these two students uses more opinion than fact? __________________

2. Copy one sentence that is an opinion. ________________________________

3. Copy one sentence that details at least one fact. ________________________________

4. Which of these two students’ writings is more persuasive? Why? ________________
Judgment

Judgment in social studies means a person’s evaluation of facts. For example, if we use the fact that the Romans believed citizens could vote, we can judge from this that the Romans looked somewhat favorably on democracy. Good judgment is very persuasive but bad judgment is not.

Write facts and judgments in the spaces provided. Discuss your judgments in class.

Week One: Christopher Columbus: Hero, Villain, or Neither?
Open-Ended Question #1

Introduction
Christopher Columbus (1451-1506) was an explorer, cartographer (map maker), and adventurer from the Republic of Genoa (today part of northern Italy). In 1492, he led an expedition from Spain and discovered the islands of the West Indies. He died believing he had found a westerly route to Asia, but in reality, he had opened up the continents of North America and South America for European discovery and colonization. Fifty years ago, Americans viewed Columbus as a hero, and schoolchildren across the country had Columbus Day off from school. Today, students in only a few states honor Columbus, and people in many parts of our country view him with great dislike. Columbus Day is celebrated in some places of the United States on the second Monday of October, sometimes falling on the day he discovered America, October 12, 1492.

Question
Defend or reject this statement: The United States of America is correct to celebrate Christopher Columbus as a federal holiday.
A. The Age of Exploration

1. When was the Age of Exploration?

2. From which continent did the great majority of explorers come from?

3. What were the primary reasons European sailors explored the world?

4. Which two countries led the way in exploring the world in the 1400s?

5. Which areas of the world did the Spanish explore and colonize?

6. What made Columbus’ discovery of America in 1492 different than Leif Ericson and the Viking’s discovery of America in 1002?

7. Why did the Spanish arrest Columbus and bring him back to Spain in chains?

8. What might some people argue that shows Columbus is someone to honor?

9. What might some people argue that shows Columbus is not someone to honor?

10. Unfortunately, most Americans do not know much about Columbus. In your opinion, what is the best way to increase understanding among Americans about Columbus and what he represents?
B. Legal Concepts of Western Civilization

1. Belief in one God:

2. Morality:

3. Natural Law:

4. The Rule of Law:

5. Written Law:

6. Limited Government:

7. Political Liberty of all Citizens:

8. Rights of the Accused:
C. Christopher Columbus, Symbol of Western Civilization

Christopher Columbus is a symbol of Western Civilization. Columbus started the exploration and the later colonization of South and North America. Columbus brought with him both the negatives and the positives of Western Civilization.

Questions to Ponder
1. Are the eight characteristics of Western Civilization in the Grammar section (the first eight terms) of this lesson good, bad, or neither?

2. Is Columbus a legitimate symbol of Western Civilization? Does Columbus represent the West? Explain your answer.

Reflection
After the Socratic discussion with your classmates, write a Reflection on this topic.
Supporting Evidence

Supporting evidence refers to everything you use to support your thesis. These include, but are not limited to, the following.

1. Diaries and journals
2. Government documents such as birth certificates
3. Songs and stories
4. Coins, medals, jewelry
5. Artistic works such as pictures and paintings
6. Tools and pottery
7. Documents such as the Declaration of Independence
8. Weapons
9. Burial remains
10. Literature and customs

Good writers overwhelm the reader with so many pieces of supporting evidence that the writing will be quickly accepted. Also, the writer has a duty to explain carefully and logically the meaning of the evidence, showing how it supports the thesis. A writer must be careful, however, not to include unnecessary evidence. For example, the fact that Lincoln was born in a log cabin isn’t evidence that he was a good president. Also, the dates a president was born and died may be evidence, but they would not support a thesis arguing who was the best president.

Practice

With your teacher discuss which of the following is evidence for the topic “Explain what daily life was like in the Roman Republic in the third century B.C."

1. A diary from 234 B.C: ______________________
2. A newspaper article from A.D. 250: ______________
3. Your friend likes the subject: ___________________
4. A movie about life in the third century B.C: ______________
5. A song Romans sang in the third century B.C:  __________________
6. A story on the crucifixion of Christ: __________________
7. A painting of a Roman slave working in 299 A.D:  ______________
Primary or Secondary Source Analysis

A primary source is a piece of evidence authored by a person who witnessed or experienced a historical event. For example, diaries and journals are primary sources. It is usually better to find out something from a person who experienced a particular event than to hear about it secondhand. Primary source documents are usually the most useful for historians.

A secondary source is a piece of evidence that has been worked on by somebody who was not a witness to the historical event. Examples of secondary sources are textbooks, documentaries, and encyclopedias. Secondary sources are valuable but not as valuable as primary sources. Secondary sources contain the bias of the writer. This means that the writer of a secondary source will put his ideas into his explanation of the historical event, even when he may be trying not to.

Take a look at these two examples regarding the same event.

Event: Car accident outside of school

Example 1: "Oh no! I was in the back seat of my mom's car. This kid threw his friend's handball onto the street. All of a sudden, his friend jumped in front of my mom's car to get his ball. He didn't even look if a car was coming. My mom hit him and his body smashed against our windshield. Blood was everywhere!"

Example 2: "Did you hear what happened? Mario told me that his brother was walking home when he dropped his handball onto the street. After his brother looked both ways for cars, he stepped out onto the street to get his ball. Then this mad lady came speeding down the street and aimed her car at him. She hit him on purpose!"

Questions

1. Which is a primary source?
2. Which is a secondary source?
3. What is usually more believable, a primary or secondary source? Why?

Reflection

After the Socratic discussion with your classmates, write a Reflection on this topic.
After U.S. involvement in World War I, there was no doubt that America had entered the world stage as a formidable country. Before World War I, however, the United States was considered a regional power at best. Heeding the words of first President George Washington, Americans hesitated to get involved in world affairs or European wars. The isolationism of eighteenth- and nineteenth-century America changed drastically in the early twentieth century. The United States became an imperialist nation, conquering and controlling many Latin American and Asian lands. The United States was a key reason for the defeat of the Central Powers in World War I. America became an agricultural and industrial powerhouse, setting agricultural and economic examples at which the world could marvel. Various American scientists, inventors, and industrialists set the standard for modernized countries to follow. Furthermore, in World War I, it was the Americans who made the final difference for the Allies.

Question

What caused the United States to change from a regional power to a world power? How was the U.S. different from other countries? Explore the key factors that enabled the United States to emerge as one of the most powerful countries on earth.

To answer this question well, you should be familiar with these terms and people:

- the Civil War
- Reconstruction
- democracy
- capitalism
- natural resources
- World War I
- imperialism
- urbanization
- Theodore Roosevelt
- Woodrow Wilson
- European aristocracy
- Manifest Destiny
- American industrialists and inventors
B. Compare and Contrast:
Nineteenth-Century Europe and Post–Civil War America

By using a variety of sources, compare and contrast the two societies on nineteenth-century Europe and post–Civil War America. Your aim is to try to discover what caused the United States to "catch up" to Europe and even surpass her in terms of agricultural and industrial might. Your goal is to discover "What caused the United States to become a world power in the beginning of the twentieth century?"

1. In the early 1900s, what type of government did most European countries have? __________

2. In Europe, how did people become political leaders? _______________________________________

3. In the early 1900s, what type of government did the United States have? ______________________

4. How did Americans become political leaders? _____________________________________________

5. Define "aristocracy." In the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries, did European countries or the United States have an aristocracy? ___________________________________

6. What is a serf? _______________________________________________________________________

7. When were the serfs freed in the Austro-Hungarian Empire? When were serfs freed in Russia? ___________________________

8. When were slaves freed in the United States? _____________________________________________

9. In European countries, who made most decisions involving the economy (e.g., what factories would be built, what farmers would grow)? ________________________________

10. In the United States, who made most decisions involving the economy? _________________

11. Compare and contrast the natural resources of European countries with that of the United States. ________________________________________________________________

12. What did the United States learn militarily from fighting the Civil War? ________________
